

Cancer Resources Nook

Given by Beat the Odds Committee

Cancer patients, family members and friends often ask about ways to “give back” after their lives have been touched by cancer. Some do so by volunteering on the Beat the Odds Committee or becoming involved in our local Cancer Support Group. Another way to give back is the dedication of this space, in loving memory of Annabelle Baker, founder of Beat the Odds Committee.

A diagnosis of cancer brings the ongoing need for information. We are dedicated to providing accessible information and support to patients and loved ones during their cancer journey and beyond. Knowledge empowers patients to become active partners in their health care.

This nook is designed to be a restful, healing focal point for information. Whether it’s you, your spouse, partner, parent, sibling or friend that is living with cancer, the information provided here is meant to help decrease stress and increase hope during a challenging life transition.
